What can we expect for Angelina in the next coming months?

Born in the year of the rabbit, she can be flexible and very versatile, prudent and often discreet, busy life's running on many paths. She doesn't always understand the words take it easy, she works best in an environment where she can express as much freedom and individuality as she can, The gift this year for her is the ability to project long term vision and ideas into the future coming up with organic original products that do not pollute the earth, humanitarianism in her is evident, expect her charitable values to pull her strongly towards working with the earth, she is now able to analyse her feelings with some detachment but may suffer with unusual compulsions and whims. Her mind is ticking away like a finely tuned clock with her emotions hidden away.

Mind, Body & Soul: The Sun, Cosmic Card

As she detoxes her mind body and soul, she will reach a very rich feeling of gratitude. The sun card implies success, happiness, accomplishments and most of all contentment's, this can indicate births, a child even twins. She will triumph over destructive gossip and speculation about her personal life and career. You can expect more choice, more love and laughter but this will come in an unusual way. I see both of them having plastic surgery and Angelina will really question her age and quality of her life.

What can we expect for romance?

Well we can expect family, more family, family time and the rest. Brad is very much a man of his own and she is a woman who likes to know where she is at and wants to control the movements that go on between the both of them, some time will be spent apart. You can also expect speculations on a third party causing conflict between these two.
