

CELEBRITY PREDICTIONS

Fact Box

Name:	Fearne Cotton
Date of Birth:	3rd September 1982
Star Sign:	Virgo
Chinese animal:	Dog
Shaman Animal:	Cat
Lucky Number:	6
Protection pendant:	Horse or Tiger
Gem stone:	Sardonyx
Flowers for her:	Buttercup
Ruling Planet:	Mercury
Lucky Country:	Paris
Healing Colours:	Green

goes and to touch those whoever she meets. Her downfall is to wear her heart on her sleeve. When it comes to personal matters this can be a delicate subject. Her jealous streak can cause inner conflict and turmoil and she is not always willing to trust the opposite sex. With her outgoing personality she will always be running the marathon of how she wants to instruct another personality in her social circle. Not always wanting to know, or to go with, the other person's way of thinking. This can create difficulty amongst her fellow companions.

What can we expect for Fearne in the coming months

Fearne is perceptive, compassionate and loyal friend with a desire to do what is right particularly with respect to good causes. She can be direct and finds it easy to speak openly but she is still reliable and responsible and can be trusted with secrets. Fearne is both intelligent and very emotional which leads her easily to slip into a situation of panic. Over the next couple of months we can expect her to be very dependable, rational, overworked and keen to please. Her career is going to take her to places as far as Africa. She wants to have her own voice. There is an inner conflict and a need to reflect and meditate on what makes her truly happy. In other words it is going on within her this year. She does not necessarily want to push or force anything. There is a spiritual calling here of what her life is truly about. The material things do not necessarily switch her on completely. I feel quite strongly that she is questioning all her success and looking at the empty spaces that are yet to be filled. There is a certain amount of expectation of why this has not come to fruition yet. There will be circumstances where her dreams will not be fulfilled.

Mind, Body & Soul The Ten of Pentacles card

There is a feeling that she would like to have some permanency in her life. This is something that she will be working on this year. She is looking for strong foundations and satisfaction in her achievements. I can see her having some form of counselling or life coaching to make sense of her overwhelming desire to have her life in order and perfection. I feel there will be an opportunity during 2010 for reflection on the past and certainly a time to heal anything which is underlying and uncomfortable. She has reached a point in her life where things are truly completed. There is abundance in the material, but not necessarily in the emotional. The ten of pentacles is an auspicious card. It can indicate moving house, buying a business, forming a legacy, Things in the material world for her are full to the brim and this can mean something has got to give. The media exposure that will be around her over the next few months will be positively upbeat but also dauntingly taxing.

What can we expect for romance?

Choppy waters for romance as Cinderella didn't quite get to the ball and the shoe didn't fit. I feel there is currently a gentleman in her life with whom she really wants a relationship to work with but due to her work commitments, this doesn't allow her any time for her emotional needs. There will be many admirers that will want to win her heart. I see more commitments in this area of her life working out at the end of the year.

Celebrity Psychic Samantha Hamilton is offering an untimed reading to explore your past, present & future and what to expect for the year ahead. Value of £65 - special offer of £35 when quoting High Spirit Magazine. Call free on 0800-043 8149 for details.

For more details on Sam's workshops, psychic readings and life coaching, visit www.mettacentre.co.uk.co