ambitious and always straightforward with her friends. She is always a popular figure. Although naturally outgoing, she does have a sensitive nature which it is important not to overlook.

She tends to be a dreamer and has very strong religious feelings; this is tied in with romantic values. She can sometimes throw caution to the wind where money is concerned. Even though she loves to have a good account of her bank balance she can be outrageously generous to those she is close to. Colour is very important to this lady so her karmic aura tends to get coloured by what she is feeling at the time. The colour red and orange is very much in her aura. This represents family concerns and financial concerns for others.

What can we expect for Janet in the next coming months?

The word peace comes into flow. She knows how important it is to represent her family history of Michael Jackson. This however does not blind her or slow her down in any way as there is an energy of spiritual protection around her. She will be creating a stable home life for her nephews and niece, Michael's children. We can expect more media later in the year with her expressing her feelings about the cause of his death as something else is revealed. Spiritual enlightenment and the word compassion is something she will be learning in a new form.

Mind, Body & Soul the Hierophant card

The hierophant is her protection card and she will follow through her fulfilments and commitments to those around her. Her health will be tested due to family commitments, being active and on the go will cause some form of mood swings. There will be throat infections, tightness around the neck and shoulders. Mental stability is strong as she takes on a new hobby that will empower her will and stabilise her very active life. Even though she is aware of her weaknesses, being criticised can cause her to withdraw from busy commitments.

What can we expect for romance?

Janet is very private about her romantic life and keeps her cards very close to her chest. Never the less romance for her is one where she is committed to her beloved and we can expect allegations of a love affair which creates a third triangle but this is nothing new and doesn't make big gossip or tragic news.

“ She will travel to faraway places to cleanse any negative perpetual thinking that causes her pain and discomfort, as she searches for answers as to why the loss of her brother came for her to soon. ”
